1. Motivation

The reason why we chose the Sudan,

- 1) We conclude that this region is very vulnerable and is still under funded.
- 2) After the pandemic of Covid-19 the condition of Sudan is getting worse.

Therefore, with this page we hope that this could be medium for people who is willing to help Sudan.

2. Explanation

[Overall structure of the website]

-Top of page: Website name
Far right: login

-Menu bar: Web site formation for Sudan

-Center:
All websites are organized in Banner picture and page titles
Below the banner, introduce the page content introduced
The design is a diagonal background with two colors

- Best below: Announce the copyright of Team 2 who created the website

2. Explanation

[Design concept of the website]

- The representative color of our homepage is purple.
(Reason: In a psychological sense, purple symbolizes peace of mind, so We wanted to present peace to Sudan through our website.)
- Two colors of light purple and light pink are applied in diagonal background to unify the background of all pages
- Logo, login button, menu bar, and footer were unified and applied to all pages to emphasize interconnection between pages, which made it easier to move between pages and facilitate interaction.
- Starting with a banner picture with the page name on each page, we made a difference in what page you are currently looking at.
- Most of the people of delivery, 'Do-hyun' and 'Ju-ah' fonts and 'fantasy' fonts were used to construct pages.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Good Sudan website. At the top, there is a dark purple header bar with the "Good Sudan" logo in white. Below the header is a navigation menu with links: Home (highlighted in pink), Pray, Introduction, Donation, Volunteer, About Sudan, and About Our Website. To the right of the menu is a "Login" button with a user icon. The main content area features a large, atmospheric photograph of a person standing on a hill at night, looking up at a starry sky with a bright light beam. Overlaid on this image is the text "Welcome all visitors to the Good Sudan website :)". Below the image, there is a video player showing two young children. A BBC news caption is visible above the video: "BBC는 영국의 공영 방송 서비스입니다. >". To the left of the video, there is a text block: "In Sudan, there are already about 500,000 kids who have experienced severe acute malnutrition every year." Further down, another text block reads: "The ongoing crisis has been made worse by the deteriorating economic climate, recurrent acts of violence in numerous states, a meager harvest, and the changes in the price of grains and other food items on a global scale." At the bottom of the page, a footer bar contains the text "Copyright by App Programming Team 02" and a file path: "file:///Users/yeji/Desktop/teamProject/Team02_TeamProject/intro_website.html". On the right side of the main content area, there is a pink rectangular overlay with the text "Sudan ❤️" and "We pray for Sudan people :)".

Home Pray Introduction Donation Volunteer

The nation is located in northeastern Africa, bordering the Red Sea in the northeast and Egypt to the north and Eritrea to the east. Additionally, it shares maritime borders with Saudi Arabia and is bordered by Libya in the north-west, Chad in the west, the Central African Republic in the south-west, South Sudan in the south, and Ethiopia in the south-east.

At 1,886,068 km<sup>2</sup>, Sudan is the sixteenth-largest country in the world, more than five times the size of Germany and just under one-fifth the size of the United States. The estimated population of Sudan in 2015 was 40 million. Its capital is Khartoum, its major city is Omdurman, and its primary port is Port Sudan. Sudanese Arabic, the primary tongue of the nation, and Beja (Bedawi), a language spoken in the Red Sea, are both widely spoken.

Background

After gaining independence in 1956, issues for the new country in the form of north-south war arose almost immediately.

The immense cultural contrasts between these two regions carefully separated from one another under British rule were now escalating quickly, and civil war was on the horizon.

In 1958, General Ibrahim Abboud launched a military coup that toppled the government. Martial law was imposed, the legislature was disbanded, and Abboud was installed as the new prime minister.

A second coup in 1969, this one led by Colonel Jafar Mohammed al-Nimeiry, established a revolutionary council as the ruling body. In an effort to put an end to the conflict between the north and south, Nimeiry, the first president of the Sudan to be elected, signed the Addis Ababa agreement in 1972.

After almost ten years of uneasy peace, Nimeiry won re-election for a third term in 1983. However, his plans for economic recovery fell short, and dissatisfaction increased once more.

As a result, Nimeiry was overthrown in an unarmed coup in April 1985.

Let's ensure access to education for children in Sudan suffering from poverty, hunger, and civil war and provide quality educational opportunities together.

So that children who are marginalized by poverty, child labor, and discrimination can dream of a better future Provide equal opportunities for quality education.

Ensuring Quality Education

The quality of educational services is improved by supporting teachers and capacity building, cultivating literacy and math skills, and developing and operating various educational programs tailored to the development process such as gender and vocational education and training.

Conducting campaigns to defend educational rights, supporting self-governing activities, Through the development and operation of lifelong education for parents and local residents. Promote parents and communities' awareness of the right to children's education.

With your donations

Please join us in the school restoration project so that children can study as soon as possible!

We will support school tents and desks and chairs for a temporary space for studying.

We will prepare concrete and rebar materials for the reconstruction of the school building.

We can achieve rapid restoration within three months by securing an urgent construction worker.

100 children can continue their studies at home by receiving self-study materials.

Improved access to education

Support educational facilities such as kindergartens, elementary, middle and high schools, and educational equipment. It provides a high-quality educational environment by providing tuition and scholarships.

Assistance to Sudan War Refugees
The pain is not over the war ended. As war, the number of war refugees are continuing over five hundred million people. There are people who have been separated from their families and forced out of their homes due to the terrible war.

In the horrors of the worsening war. Good Sudan is helping war refugees escape. Every day, we have a scary night in the cold air. We need your help so that food, medicine, and clothing sent to Sudan for them do not stop.

Their suffering is just beginning. Please protect their daily lives. The number of war refugees have continued to rise beyond five million people. Even if the war ended, how many time and help them return to the seat of life.

Recruitment of volunteers to operate in the event of a facility collapse

They clean up the collapsed debris together and create new homes together to provide refuge

Mobile Traffic Assistance for Evacuation

Mental and emotional help

They try to help refugees mentally and emotionally by volunteering for people who have counseling certificates or majored in social welfare.

Our service can now save their lives, which have lost everything in the war.

4. Conclusion

4. Conclusion

[What you learned?]

Through this group project,

- Appreciate all of our team members' support, and creating the website was enjoyable with team members.
- Creating a website requires a lot of time but after that we feel accomplished and we found how much fun web design is.

4. Conclusion

[What were the challenges?]

- It's hard time designing a homepage because, I didn't have enough sense of design.
- When configuring the homepage, it was difficult to arrange the colors.
- Applying css in JavaScript code was not easy

4. Conclusion

[Future direction?]

- Create a register page so that you can register as a member.
- Login page allows many users to use their accounts instead of just one user
- To embody the concept of the homepage and to take advantage of the unique features of our website,
- To accommodate dark mode/light mode according to user requirements
- Register the title of prayer on the player page so that you can check it on the table immediately.
- Create a feedback page to receive feedback on our website

4. Conclusion

[Role of team members]
